Re: A/C Freon leaking from A/C unit

Thanks John for helping us fix the A/C problem. We had the contract with PSEG and the A/C wasn't cooling the house. They came and filled it with Freon the first time. The A/C stopped working in a week's time. Then we called them again and the guy who came suggested that we've to change the A/C unit all together. They were not willing to look into the problem to find out why the coolant leaked in a week. They just wanted us to buy another one. One of our friends referred John's name and number. He came and looked to see what the problem was with the A/C unit and where the leak was. He found the cause for the leak and fixed it with a change in particular part and we saved a lot of money for now. He did a professional job of it and we are very happy about it. We would strongly recommend his name to our friends.

Sincerely,

Chandra
